

What Guides Can Do for You

Received April 21st, 2008

There is a certain measure of responsibility each of you has in the manifestation of your own Destiny. It is not possible for you to go through your life and rely on Angels or Guides to ensure each goal is arranged on your behalf. There must be an Understanding that Guides are there to guide, just like a teacher teaches. Anything that is of a physical nature resulting in form or substance must be accomplished by human hands. Changes within the human heart or arrangement of circumstances are things that can be attended to partly by Ascended Masters.

Recognize even when Masters assist a human being on his or her Path it is up to the individual to see the signposts, to act decisively and to manifest results from the inclination of the hearts involved. The only thing a Guide can do is arrange attitudes and help modify thought processes, directing the unseen activities of the heart and mind. Then the person has to pick up his or her own feet and walk. Except in emergency situations, anything that has to do with movement, manifestation or change must be accomplished by human hands.

Too many humans rely upon the Higher Realms to make things happen on a physical level. People who sit back and believe that the Universe will spontaneously cause possessions to appear lack spiritual Understanding. The only time this can happen is when the person first acts upon the impetus placed within his or her heart by the Guides. For example, you may feel that someone has come into your life by the guided hand of an Angel. What actually happened is the Angel spoke to that person's heart and he then took action and made himself available to you.

It would be far better for all people to overachieve rather than to under-manifest, expecting that the Universe will take care of more than its share. If a person does not come halfway, the Guide cannot meet him and, therefore, he may feel that he has been forgotten. This is what creates victim-consciousness: a person believes he is not being cared for when, in fact, he has simply not done his part. Consequently, the person begins to see himself as a victim. He may feel that he trusted the Universe to provide for him and it has not done so. This is why it is so important for humans to learn to do their part—so the Guides can always meet them halfway.

Therefore, recognize that it is in your best interest to do more than you believe necessary in any situation. If you do so, you will never feel bitterness or the inaccurate sense of being forgotten by the Universe. Simply create more loveliness and power, create more movement and abundance than you think you will need. As you surpass your half of the meeting point, you will find that the Guides are there to meet you and to joyfully help you fulfill your Highest Potential.

- L. Taylor

www.hopeofthenewage.com

Copyright © 2011 by L. Taylor All Rights Reserved
